BLUEBIRD KISSES - SIBERIAN. Schafer/Sacks (Seedling No. S06-28-10), 28”, M.
When we saw a pair of Bluebirds in a tender moment last spring, we immediately thought of the name for this iris. Simple in color – medium blue, yet complex in form. Full, round and ruffled falls are decorated with neat blue twirls on the tips of semi-upright styles. Sweet white signal. A tremendous amount of bloom on a clump with flowers just above the foliage. Two branches and four buds per stalk. Good vigor. DRINK YOUR TEA - SIBERIAN. Schafer/Sacks (Seedling No. S07-102-10), 31”, EM.
Apricot tea with lemon. (Actually this iris was named with another bird in mind – our Eastern Towhee who sings this song sweetly and incessantly all spring.) Orangey-brown falls are set off by pale apricot standards and styles. The flowers are small and are held beautifully above the foliage making a stunning slump. There are many stalks which never appear crowded. One branch with five buds per stalk. ORDERING INFORMATION

Thank you to all of our customers. Visitors are welcome to our garden during iris bloom. With climate change, peak Siberian bloom varies from May 20 to June 10. You can contact us in May to find out how this year is going. Pardancandas bloom from mid-July into August. Remember to come in the mid to late afternoon for Pardancanda viewing. If you can’t come to visit the garden, please visit our website where you can see multiple photos of many irises including clump shots and color variations.

Unless noted as "potted", all plants are freshly dug and SHIPPED BARE ROOT. These plants are from lined-out divisions. For siberians we guarantee to send a plant with at least three fans, though often they are larger. The potted plants will arrive in 2½ inch pots. Primroses will only be shipped in the Spring.

SHIPPING DATES: Please circle on the order form when you want shipment. There are three spring dates and three summer dates. Those of you who live in the colder areas might want to plant in spring or mid-August to establish plants before the ground freezes (as we do), those of you in warmer areas might want to put off planting until later in the year when it is cooler. We do not recommend spring shipment for areas whose spring is much more advanced than ours. Primroses will only be shipped in the Spring.

All shipping (except foreign) will be by Priority Mail. Please add $9 for 1-5 plants, $10 for 6-10 plants, $11 for 11-15 plants, and $12 for over 15 plants. (MA residents must add 6.25% sales tax.) Foreign customers - please contact us about special handling as well as additional charges for postage and phytosanitary certificate.

You can see photos of the irises in this catalog on-line at www.jpwfowers.com

FIREFLY SHUFFLE - '11, 6-8", M, SPEC-koreana (Probst) I. koreana was collected in 1997 along the west coast of South Korea by Darrell Probst. Until this collection, it had not been seen in the United States. This plant blooms in early to mid-May in Massachusetts. The foliage is semi-evergreen here. It thrives in a variety of garden situations, preferring semi-shade, and ordinary to dry soil. Darrell selected this one for its heavy bloom every year and its consistent increase. A typical yellow koreana with a sharp and distinct brown halo. Puts on a big show! Potted..........................$18.00

LAEVIGATAE:
Iris versicolor is a North American wildflower found from SE Canada through the northern Midwest to North Carolina and throughout the NE United States. In the wild it grows in wet meadows, marshes, highway drainage ditches, and even on sandy beaches where there is running fresh water. Though it is a member of the series Laevigatae and is called a "water iris", it does not require constant moisture and can thrive in conditions similar to siberians. One of its best features is the generous amount of bloom on gracefully curved stems with charming bud placement. The foliage can be a bit coarse late in the season.

BETWEEN THE LINES - '91, 22", SPEC-versicolor (Schafer/Sacks). The flowers have a white ground with violet blue veining, but the overall effect is light blue. Yellow signal and prominent green throat. The pearly styles have a violet midrib. Founders of SIGNA Medal '01 $8.00

EAST MEETS WEST - '14, 15", L.
SPEC-X-Sibitata (Schafer/Sacks)
In case you have never heard of a Sibitata, don’t feel bad, no one else has either. It is the cross of an American native – I. tridentata – onto a Siberian hybrid (during repeat bloom). The medium blue-purple falls are decorated by large white and purple signals. The big surprise comes in the center of the flower with very dark violet style arms and the palest lavender (almost white) standards. From I. tridentata, the standards are small. We do not know everything about the growth habit yet, but it is definitely clumping and not stoloniferous. It grows in ordinary garden soil and blooms after the Siberians, but before the tridentatas. Two to three buds .......................................................... $25.00

PREVIOUS INTRODUCTION:

FLOATING CANDLES - '03, 25", M.
SPECX-sibirica hybrid (Schafer/Sacks).
Small, delicate, yellow amoena with tiny red-violet dots and veins on its smooth gold signal. Classic form - tall white upright standards, small horizontal white styles, and pendant yellow falls. Narrow foliage topped by taller flower stems. HM’07. $8.00

IRIS X NORRISII (formerly X PARDANCANDA)

Just when it seems the iris season is over along come the Pardancandas. These are hybrids between Iris dichotoma (formerly Pardanthopsis dichotoma or The Vesper Iris) and Iris domestica (formerly Belamcanda chinensis or The Blackberry Lily). Sam Norris of Kentucky was the first to make this cross. Recent changes in the taxonomy of Pardancandas have been made and they are now classified as irises. Their new name is Iris xnorrisii.

Pardancandas bloom from July through August in New England, each variety for about three to four weeks. The flowers are small, open for only one day, and they can be produced in profusion.

The cultivars we offer are all from the breeding program of Darrell Probst and our own breeding with his material. These are not seed strains. All of these plants have been selected for hardiness (Zone 5), color, form of flower, branching and bud count, and for being outstanding garden plants. The tall strong stalks can have as many as 45 spathes (bud placements), with 6 to 10 buds in each of these.

Pardancandas are quite different in appearance from most irises. Nevertheless, they have rhizomes and leaf fans and flowers in three parts. They like lots of sun, resent wet soil, and need regular dividing. They are drought tolerant and do not mind the extreme heat of the south. Their growing needs are similar to bearded irises. We will send special cultural instructions.

Some characteristics to take note of in the descriptions are flower form (some are “iris-type” and some “intermediate” between I. dichotoma and I. domestica) and the time of day when flowers open. Some open in the morning like I. domestica and some open in the afternoon like I. dichotoma. If you work during the day the late openers are perfect for you, but if you’re home all day you might want to try both.

PRIMROSES SPRING SHIPPING ONLY

Primula Section Primula

Primula x polyantha

These are the familiar primroses of cottage gardens. Our introductions have been selected for hardiness, perenniality, sturdy stems and prolific bloom. All are grown in the ground in Massachusetts, a cold zone 5, and have survived many open as well as snow-covered winters. They prefer well drained, somewhat moist soil in partial shade. Our listings are all polyanthus primroses, which are hybrids involving several species. They bloom for us in May and are great companions to Iris cristata and even SDB’s.

‘Sweet Sunshine’ - An abundance of soft yellow flowers with a fabulous fragrance. As many as twenty (!) flowers per ten inch stem are held open and upright to make this great display. Very hardy and vigorous. Stems are great for cutting to make sweet spring bouquets. Thrum*........Potted..................$10.00

Primula Section Cortusoides

Primula sieboldii

These less well known primula are native to Siberia and Japan (These are not the water-loving candelabra types often called “Japanese Primroses”). Primula sieboldii are mat forming, producing large vigorous clumps which are covered with flowers here in May for three to four weeks. They are quite easy to grow. After bloom they often go completely dormant, and the foliage disappears. However they return dependably each spring. We grow them in both sun and shade. In warmer areas they would need more shade.

In Japan P. sieboldii are called Sakurash (Cherry Blossom plant) and there is a society devoted to them alone. The color patterns and petal forms vary tremendously. Two petal shapes are important to note - those with smooth edges which we call phlox-type, and those with notched edges which we call lace-type. Also important is the color of the reverse of the flower as this is often part of the show.

‘Felicity’ - A deeply sanded magenta star in the center diffuses onto the light pink petals. The reverse is a smooth pink-magenta. Nine inches tall with 11 flowers per stem. Pin* A charmer......................Potted (limited supply)..............$8.00

‘Hot Spot’ - A clump of this primrose is truly a hot spot in the garden. Large and cheery magenta flowers have a bright white star gleaming in the center and phlox-type edges with lots of ruffles. There are twelve or more flowers on nine inch stems covering the foliage with color. Vigorous. Thrum*........................................$8.00

‘Ice Princess’ - In a Primula sieboldii world filled with magenta, this flower is called “blue”. The lace-type flowers are a contrast between the lavender-blue-to-white face and the darker lavender-blue reverse. Very floriferous with many sturdy 10” stems carrying 14 or more flowers. Thrum*........................................Potted (limited supply)..............$8.00

‘Lacy Lady’ - Like a snowflake with a magenta picotee edge. The dark reverse is attractively displayed by the bowl shaped flowers. Stalks are nine inches tall with 14 to 15 flowers each. Pin*........................................Potted..................$8.00

‘Late Snow’ - A nicely cut white lace-type with a white reverse and a dash of purple on the tube. Selected from a bevy of white laces for its superior strong stems. Nine inches tall, eleven flowers per stem. Pin* Covers itself with bloom. ........................................Potted.............................$8.00

‘Peach Blossom’ - This flower has lovely cupped petal edges. The petite flowers are shaded from inside out - with a faint white ring around the central star, followed by a wider band of soft magenta blending into the lighter pink petals. A compact plant with 10 or more flowers on strong seven inch stems. Pin* ........................................Potted.............................$8.00

‘Rock Candy’ - Rich carmine rose with a small white eye. The flowers have semi-frilly edges - a simple lace-type. Eight inches tall with 10 flowers per stalk. A compact clump with an abundance of stalks. Pin* Its first garden spot was up against a large rock - hence the name. ..................Potted.............................$8.00

‘Smooch’ - Glows from across the garden - clean white and pink front with deeper reverse. Each phlox-type flower is semi-cupped creating an exciting clump with contrasting play of white and pink. Strong 9” stems with 12 or more flowers held all around the stem. Pin* ........................................Potted.............................$8.00

‘Sparkler’ - Bright magenta lace-type flower with distinctive irregular white edges and stunning white central star. The flowers are smallish but plentiful. More than 12 per 10” stem and the pedicels are short and strong - holding up well in the rain. Thrum* Jazzy.........................Potted.............................$8.00

‘Starlight’ - Each flower has a large white star radiating into pinky magenta stripes. Clump effect is bright and stunning. Flowers are large with smooth edges. Sturdy stems are 9” tall with 12 or more flowers each. Pin* ............Potted............$8.00

Please note: Heights of primroses vary as bloom progresses and depend on light conditions. These are mid-bloom estimates.

*The fertility of primroses is complicated (called heterostyl), but generally a pin and a thrum are needed to make seeds. Either form can be used as the pollen or pod parent.
